

About This Book

This book is designed as a practical pocket guide for anyone who lives in, works in, or frequently visits Indonesia.

Rather than focusing on grammar rules or long explanations, this book helps you communicate in real-life situations that you will encounter every day. All dialogues are based on common interactions with local people, such as ordering food, using transportation, shopping, asking for directions, and handling daily needs.

Each learning sentence is written in Indonesian and is immediately followed by its English translation. This format allows you to quickly understand meaning without switching pages, making the book easy to use in real situations.
